A city which embodies the spirit of Japan 'kindness and warmth'

Nagato

Nagato city lies at the northwesternmost tip of the Honshu island and is located in the northwest of Yamaguchi prefecture. Relish the picture-perfect scenery in the Sea of Japan that the Kita Nagato Coast Quasi-national Park offers, and let your hair down in five famous hot springs in the Nagato Onsen Village. Your story unfolds while traveling around Nagato. This is where you can discover Japanese heart "kindness and warmth" in every scene enveloping the sea, village, hot springs, food, and people.

Cultural facilities of Nagato city

Kaneko Misuzu Memorial Museum

Kaneko Misuzu was a writer of poetry for children. Until she died at the young age of just 26, she had written 512 verses. The museum takes visitors back to the time when she spent her life through her books and collections of poems. It also features the recreated bookstore Kaneko Buneido where she spent her childhood and her room.

Kazuki Yasuo Art Museum

Kazuki Yasuo, known for his work "Siberia Series", blazed the great trail in modern Japanese oil paintings. The museum displays collections of his works and sketches that used to be in the possession of his family.

Murata Seifu Memorial Museum Misumi Village

Murata Seifu was a prominent reformer of Choshu Domain in turbulent times of the late Edo period. The museum includes personal belongings and documents of Murata the wise and Sufu Masanosuke, allowing visitors to find achievements in their distinguished service and personalities.

Whale Museum

The Whale Museum stores and exhibits materials related to the ancient whaling which was brisk in the Kayoi area of the Omijima Island. Displayed photographs of fishermen who lived with whales, ancient whaling equipment, and drums performed along with whaling songs express the deep bond between local people and whales. Located within sight of the museum there is the tomb of whales "Kujira-baka" praying for their fetuses. It embodies special feelings of fishermen that turned to whales.

Recommended places to visit

Omijima Island

Omijima Island boasts picturesque scenery with approximately 40 kilometers of breathtaking coastline with sheer cliffs, caves, and multitudes of oddly shaped rocks like monoliths created by the wild waves. The island offers an excursion boat ride which travels all the way around it, walking trails, a beach, and a campsite.

Senjojiki

Senjojiki is grassland extending over the hill which stands 333 meters in height, with islands in the Sea of Japan below. The 360-degree panoramic view of a boundless expanse of a blue sky and sea unrolls itself. Isaribi floating in the sea on a summer night creates a romantic, exquisite world of nature.

Motonosumi-jinja Shrine

An impressive view of 123 red torii shrine gates wind down along a mountain towards a cliff overlooking the Sea of Japan. The offertory box usually located on the ground, is at the top of the five-meter tall torii gate. It is believed that your wish will come true if your offering lands in the offertory box. The US broadcaster CNN chose this shrine as one of the 31 most beautiful places in Japan in March 2015, and again as one of the 36 most stunning places in Japan in January 2019.

Higashi Ushirobata Tanada

Terraced rice fields in Higashi Ushirobata spread in the hills of the peninsula approaching the shore, which is unique among fields generally seen in the mountain areas. The spectacular views of fields against a background of the sea (isaribi [fishing-fire]) or the dazzling sunset keep photographers spellbound. With the scenery of terraced rice fields overlooking the Sea of Japan, the area was selected as one of "The best 100 terraced rice fields in Japan" in 1999 by the Ministry of Agriculture, Forestry and Fisheries.

Taineiji Temple

Taineiji Temple is one of the largest noted Soto Zen temples, where the Ouchi clan thriving in Yamaguchi Prefecture as a western victor in the Muromachi period came to an end. The Banjaku-kyo Bridge spanning the Taineiji River, which was built in the early days of the Edo period, is called one of the three distinctive bridges in the prefecture. The temple enchants many visitors with the fantastic scenery of cherry blossoms in spring and red foliage in fall.

Yang Guifei Village

Folklore in the area has it that Yang Guifei, known as one of the Three Beauties of the World, passed away soon after reaching Todoguchi. Locals laid her to rest in the Nisonin Temple with respect after her death. The Gorinto in the temple is said to be her grave.

Scuba Diving

Areas around Omijima Island are designated as Kita Nagato Coast Quasi-national Park and they are famous among Japanese scuba divers for the beautiful diving spots. The beach is equipped with diving shops, restrooms, accommodation, etc. for the comfort and safety of divers.

Mara Kannon

It is said that Mara Kannon Shrine was built by the locals who took pity on the son of Yoshitaka Ouchi who had been sheltered, disguised as a girl and eventually killed, to comfort his spirit. It still exists today with many visitors to pray for fertility and good health.
